

D5: MOBILIZATION AGAINST THE 2009 WTO MINISTERIAL

Mass March, Indoor Rally & Concert

Saturday
December 5, 2009

Downtown Portland

12:00 Noon - Tom McCall Waterfront Park
(under the Hawthorne Bridge)

*This statewide "D5" demonstration is part of a global mobilization against the proposed
expansion of the World Trade Organization*

Get involved at: www.December5.org

D5: MOBILIZATION AGAINST THE 2009 WTO MINISTERIAL

Mass March, Indoor Rally & Concert

Saturday
December 5, 2009

Downtown Portland

12:00 Noon - Tom McCall Waterfront Park
(under the Hawthorne Bridge)

*This statewide "D5" demonstration is part of
a global mobilization against the proposed
expansion of the World Trade Organization*

Get involved at: www.December5.org

D5: MOBILIZATION AGAINST THE 2009 WTO MINISTERIAL

Mass March, Indoor Rally & Concert

Saturday
December 5, 2009

Downtown Portland

12:00 Noon - Tom McCall Waterfront Park
(under the Hawthorne Bridge)

*This statewide "D5" demonstration is part of
a global mobilization against the proposed
expansion of the World Trade Organization*

Get involved at: www.December5.org

D5: MOBILIZATION AGAINST THE 2009 WTO MINISTERIAL

Mass March, Indoor Rally & Concert

Saturday
December 5, 2009

Downtown Portland

12:00 Noon - Tom McCall Waterfront Park
(under the Hawthorne Bridge)

*This statewide "D5" demonstration is part of
a global mobilization against the proposed
expansion of the World Trade Organization*

Get involved at: www.December5.org

Why Oppose the WTO?

In late 2009, the World Trade Organization will be hosting the largest international meeting on trade and investment to take place in years. On its agenda is the expansion of "free trade" pacts that would:

- cause further offshoring of Oregon jobs
- prohibit new banking regulations designed to prevent the next financial crisis
- force future global warming policies to conform with restrictive commercial agreements
- expand agricultural practices that push small farmers off their land and force migration
- require countries to accept imported foods and consumer items that fail to meet local safety standards

Join the global movement saying "NO" to the WTO on Saturday, December 5th in Portland and at other events throughout the state this fall.

For bus and caravan information, call (503) 736-9777 or visit www.December5.org.

Why Oppose the WTO?

In late 2009, the World Trade Organization will be hosting the largest international meeting on trade and investment to take place in years. On its agenda is the expansion of "free trade" pacts that would:

- cause further offshoring of Oregon jobs
- prohibit new banking regulations designed to prevent the next financial crisis
- force future global warming policies to conform with restrictive commercial agreements
- expand agricultural practices that push small farmers off their land and force migration
- require countries to accept imported foods and consumer items that fail to meet local safety standards

Join the global movement saying "NO" to the WTO on Saturday, December 5th in Portland and at other events throughout the state this fall.

For bus and caravan information, call (503) 736-9777 or visit www.December5.org.

Why Oppose the WTO?

In late 2009, the World Trade Organization will be hosting the largest international meeting on trade and investment to take place in years. On its agenda is the expansion of "free trade" pacts that would:

- cause further offshoring of Oregon jobs
- prohibit new banking regulations designed to prevent the next financial crisis
- force future global warming policies to conform with restrictive commercial agreements
- expand agricultural practices that push small farmers off their land and force migration
- require countries to accept imported foods and consumer items that fail to meet local safety standards

Join the global movement saying "NO" to the WTO on Saturday, December 5th in Portland and at other events throughout the state this fall.

For bus and caravan information, call (503) 736-9777 or visit www.December5.org.

Why Oppose the WTO?

In late 2009, the World Trade Organization will be hosting the largest international meeting on trade and investment to take place in years. On its agenda is the expansion of "free trade" pacts that would:

- cause further offshoring of Oregon jobs
- prohibit new banking regulations designed to prevent the next financial crisis
- force future global warming policies to conform with restrictive commercial agreements
- expand agricultural practices that push small farmers off their land and force migration
- require countries to accept imported foods and consumer items that fail to meet local safety standards

Join the global movement saying "NO" to the WTO on Saturday, December 5th in Portland and at other events throughout the state this fall.

For bus and caravan information, call (503) 736-9777 or visit www.December5.org.